ABA Therapy Billing

While there are many types of treatments available for Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) is the most evidence-based treatment for individuals with ASD.

ABA documentation typically includes evidence of the assessment and diagnosis, the ongoing plan of care, and notes of patient progress. Incorrect documentation can negatively impact both patient care and payment for services rendered.

Here are some documentation best practices/requirements:

- Accurate & timely sessions/progress notes
- CPT code/description of services rendered
- Assignment of appropriate DSM codes
- Insurance information
- Authorization information
- Supervisor & parent/guardian signatures
